Alp Ozberker is an internationally-recognized printmaker and illustrator, whose etchings draw observers into his enchanted visual environments that are both whimsical and witty. He is also an artist “of the people” having been a regular participant in California art festivals for over 30 years. Born in Istanbul, Alp speaks six languages and is a magnetic conversationalist. His work is in the collections of the Auchenbach Foundation for Graphic Arts, Fine Arts Museums of San Francisco, the Bancroft Library in Berkeley, Folger Shakespeare Library in Washington DC and more.
